To whom it may concern

Re John Gower

Having recently sold our vending business I wish to confirm John's role in the company for the last four years.

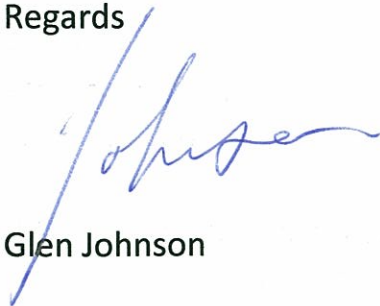

He essentially undertook the running of a division of our vending business (Required one day a week). This included the ordering of stock, servicing vending machines, collecting cash, accounting for cash and stock. He undertook all this unsupervised away from our main office.

The tasks required someone with the upmost integrity and honesty. John has been exemplary as a part time employee undertaking the responsibilities with due diligence.

I would highly recommend John to any company needing an honest, hard working and clear thinking staff member who can handle large amounts of cash and/or stock. As stated above he works very well on his own.

Please call me if you require any further information.

Regards

Glen Johnson
